

We need all the diverse information we can get. Corporate ownership of radio and tv stations limits our ability to get the news in a non-partisan manner. US news is already corrupted by corporate interests. My friends trust only foreign news and the BBC. The Far or Religious Right is trying to control the minds and hearts of Americans enough as it is. What happened to restraint of trade? It seems as if all our liberties are being eroded by the present administration, which is not interested in diversity of any kind, nor does it care for cultural concerns, or anything beyond the momentary advantage to the privileged classes. We need diverse points of view to be aired throughout the US.
